Docker container run -it

Run is used when we want to create a new container from an image

Docker container exec-it

Exec is used when we want to run commands in an already running container

-t allocates a pseudo terminal so that it makes the container start look like a terminal connection session.

By default docker container run has stdout stream but with -i we get stdin stream added